State of California

Precipitation

Annual average precipitation polygons represent areas described by isohyetal lines of precipitation, measured in inches, averaged over the period 1900-1960.